DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed January 27, 2006 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered except where indicated on the attached copy.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "solenoid" and "magnet" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3, 4, 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over in view Seok (KR20020044446) in view of Graham.

Seok teaches an electromagnetic damper control device for an electromagnetic damper, the damper comprising a first member containing a magnet, and a second member containing a solenoid, wherein a relative rotation of the first member and the second member generates an electromagnetic force in the solenoid which acts as a damping force to the relative rotation. (Abstract) Seok does not teach wherein the damper comprises a current limiter.

Graham teaches a control device wherein the actuation of the first member and the second member generates an electromagnetic force in a solenoid (33) which acts as a damping force, the device comprising: a current limiter element (128) which operates based on the electrical voltage generated in the solenoid, the current limiter element limiting a current flowing through the solenoid to a predetermined current determined depending on a voltage generated in the solenoid. (Column 17, lines 5-12) It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the current limiter of Graham in the device of Smith in order to provide controlled actuation of the solenoid in a motor actuated damper.

5. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over in view Seok (KR20020044446) in view of of Graham as applied above and further in view of Valdemarsson et al.

Re claim 2, Valdemarsson et al teach a plurality of current limiter circuits connected in parallel and configured to operate at different voltages. (Column 1, lines 6-24) It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide plural circuits in order to provide operation in different voltage ranges.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
